Design Vision AURA
AURA, Sinot's 2025 yacht concept, embodies presence through elegance and restraint. AURA honors the ocean's vastness and the deep connection between people and the sea. Conceived as a sanctuary where boundaries between inside and out dissolve, AURA elevates simplicity to ultra-bespoke minimalism. Balanced proportions and generous spaces create a floating retreat defined by light, flow and serenity.

From the outset, the Sinot team set out to create a yacht that felt timeless and profound. 'Presence Through Elegance' became the guiding principle: a design language that communicates power without aggression, confidence without arrogance. Life on board is designed to be relaxed yet personal, balancing freedom and fun with inner calm. Innovative features give form to this vision: foldout hatches offer safe sea access, while a beam-wide Panorama Lounge with sweeping views hosts social events.

A Diver's Club encourages immersion, and an Observatory Lounge on top seems to float in the sky. The Beach Club, with its vides and monumental art installation, links multiple decks directly to the sea, while the Owner's Deck crowns the design as a private haven. For guests 6 VIP State Rooms are available and 1 VIP Suite. AURA draws its strength from restraint, balance and serenity. It is a concept that embodies presence through harmony instead of relying on excess or spectacle.

AURA Exterior: Sculptural Clarity
AURA is a 141- metre superyacht that redefines luminous architecture and sculptural presence. The decks cascade gently aft, opening the yacht to the sea and creating a visual rhythm of terraces and lounges. Every line, from the architectural aft to the fluid flare of the bow, is crafted for elegance, proportion, and balance. Its pearl-infused metallic hull shimmers with subtle, shifting tones, blending seamlessly with sea and sky. The exterior design begins with clarity and evolves into fluid, marine-inspired lines, framing expansive outdoor decks. With advanced propulsion and energy systems, AURA unites performance and responsibility. It is not simply built to sail, but to inspire a luminous lifestyle beyond boundaries.

AURA Interior: Indoor-Outdoor Connection
Five expansive decks dissolve boundaries between yacht, water, and horizon. Glass façades, sunlit lounges, and open outdoor spaces invite a life immersed in light. At the highest level, the Observatory Lounge offers a private panorama of endless seas. The Owner's Deck provides secluded retreat, while the Upper Deck features a beam-wide Panorama Lounge, vast al-fresco areas, and an open-plan wheelhouse. On the Main Deck, guests enjoy VIP suites, a wellness sanctuary, gym, and a 750 m² exterior deck flowing into the multi-level Beach Club. At the waterline, fold-out terraces and the Diver's Club create direct connections to the sea—an aquatic haven of adventure and refined leisure.

AURA: The Owner's Celestial Sanctuary
At AURA's highest full deck, the Owner's State Room is conceived as a private sanctuary of flowing forms and ultra-bespoke minimalism. Spanning 240 m², it includes a monumental, forward-facing bedroom that opens onto an expansive exterior deck, a fluid his-and-hers bathroom, and two circular dressing rooms. Aft, a secluded lounge extends onto a 480 m² terrace, offering two distinct lounge settings which are ideal for an intimate breakfast at sunrise or a quiet afternoon immersed in a book. Floor-to-ceiling glass façades slide away completely, dissolving boundaries between inside and out.

VIP Suite: Serene Elegance
On AURA's Main Deck, the beam-wide VIP Suite offers a sanctuary of comfort and understated luxury. With a generous layout including double bathrooms, dual dressing areas, and a private lounge adjoining the bedroom, the suite is designed for serene living. Floor-to-ceiling glass façades flood the space with natural light and sea views, while natural wood, stone, reclaimed textiles, and custom-crafted furnishings create a minimalist, beach-inspired retreat of quiet elegance at sea.

Beach Club & Main Deck Lounge: 'Breath of Light'
At the heart of AURA, the Beach Club and Main Deck Lounge are united by a soaring double-height atrium and the luminous 'Breath of Light' installation. Spanning more than 570 m², these spaces flow seamlessly between social energy and tranquil retreat. The beam-wide Beach Lounge frames sweeping seascapes, while vast hatches fold open to create sea-level terraces—one a dining pavilion, the other a platform for effortless ocean access. One deck above, the Main Deck Lounge connects to a 750 m² Main Deck Terrace with a 12-metre glass-bottom infinity pool. Here, swimming, sunbathing, and socializing merge into unforgettable moments.

Diver's Club & Concealed Corridor: Underwater Encounters
Guests enter the Diver's Club through a blue-lit circular concealed corridor that sets the tone for discovery. This sculptural passage feels like a descent into another realm, leading to AURA's Diver's Club. Inside, a glass bar anchors the space, surrounded by etched-glass cabinets displaying bespoke diving suits and advanced equipment. Overhead, light filters through the yacht's glass-bottom pool, casting shimmering reflections. The result is an intimate, otherworldly retreat where yacht and ocean dissolve into one.

Wheelhouse: Art of Navigation
AURA's transparent wheelhouse is more than a bridge, it is a theatre of motion where guests can witness the noble art of navigation. Elevated seating immerses them in the yacht's pulse, as captain and crew command a fully integrated, AI-infused sailing system with fingertip precision. Purposeful yet graceful in design, the light-filled bridge features full-height windows and sliding doors to the sea, uniting innovation, transparency, and timeless elegance.

Observation Lounges: Top of the World
At the pinnacle of AURA, the Observation Lounge is a retreat of exclusivity and stillness, suspended between sea and sky. A ripple-patterned glass-ceramic floor draws the eye toward floor-to-ceiling façades that slide open to dissolve boundaries with the horizon. Above, a vast spherical glass artwork evokes infinite space and time, while adaptive fauteuils set the stage for intimate moments or visionary conversations.

Panorama Lounges: Intimate Hospitality
On the Upper Deck, the 340 m² Panorama Lounge serves as the ultimate residential gathering space for owners, guests, family, and friends, whether preparing for the day ahead, dining together, or celebrating late into the night. . Its full-beam design flows seamlessly into 660 m² of fore and aft terraces, uniting interior and exterior. Custom furnishings in soft tonal fabrics create a welcoming atmosphere for family meals, lively evenings, or quiet reflection. The Panorama Lounge embodies AURA's spirit of connection, perspective, and harmony.
